Written Statement of Reasons for Detention

I find that the accusations in the indictment and the information provided in the pretrial services report and at the detention hearing establish by a preponderance of the evidence that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required.

I conclude that the following factors specified in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g) are present and are to be taken into account:

1. Defendant is a 32-year old U.S. citizen who has lived in the Houston area for 11 years. He reports that he now lives with his parents in Baytown, TX. He has a 5-year old child from a prior relationship with a co-defendant. He has had numerous addresses over recent years and has no history of having a stable residence. He reports prior self-employment but is currently unemployed and has no stable employment history. Defendant has no financial ties to the community.
2. Defendant's criminal history includes a felony conviction for theft and 2 felony convictions for drug possession as well misdemeanor marijuana convictions. His deferred adjudication on a charge of assault of a family member was revoked for failure to comply with the deferred adjudication conditions. He has outstanding warrants for driving violations. He has used aliases and alternate dates of birth.
3. Defendant has been charged with conspiracy to commit mail fraud and access device fraud in violation of 18 U.S.C. §§ 1349 and 1029. The charges against him carry a potential penalty of up to 15 years in prison.
4. There is no condition or combination of conditions of release which would assure the appearance of the defendant in court. Detention is ordered.

Directions Regarding Detention

It is therefore ORDERED that the defendant is committed to the custody of the Attorney General or his designated representative for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal. The defendant shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with defense counsel. On order of a court of the United States or on request of an attorney for the Government, the person in charge of the corrections facility shall deliver the defendant to the United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with all court proceedings.
